1. IRO Chief in Greece, Edward B. Marks, has obtained a terminal IRO grant for administration of newly created refugee service committee and for the disposal of IRO hard core refugee cases. But with end of IRO about 1 Dec., Lavrion and Syros will revert to Greeks with no provision for inspection and control from outside. Faced with a critical situation in the refugee camps, that is detrimental to OPC recruiting activities, the [ ] has recommended an expenditure of $30,000 by OPC under certain terms, which would provide temporary relief. The plan provides for :

By OPC - For emergency repairs Lavrion and Syros $15,000
For creation separate reception - processing center $15,000

By Greek Government - For maintenance refugee program $90,000

2. The OPC grant would be made under the cover of a terminal IRO grant. Responsibility for the administration of these funds would be given to [ ] the wife of an ECA technical assistance officer, [ ] has been acting IRO chief in Mark's absence and is highly recommended by him. She would be an OPC employee responsible to OPC [ ]

3. The funds would be used as a bargaining lever to obtain control over camp administration providing OPC access to refugees and records for recruiting purposes.
